GETS DIVORCE ON HER COMPLAINT

Judge Megee Finds For Mrs. Anna Kirkpatrick and Gives Her $900 Alimony.

WILL ASK FOR NEW TRIAL

Mrs. Dorothy D. Taylor Gets $6500— is Settlement in Two Cases Totalling $40,000 For Damages.

Judge Megee this morning granted a divorce to Mrs. Anna Kirkpatrick. The court gave Mrs. Kirkpatrick $900 alimony and allowed her $75 attorney fees. The case was heard last week and because of the prominence of the parties involved attracted considerable attention. Mrs. Kirkpatrick asked $5,000 alimony. In giving his decision Judge Megee stated that if Mr. Kirkpatrick or Mrs. Kirkpatrick were both younger he would refuse a divorce but if he did so Mr. Kirkpatrick would be compelled to support her for two years before action could again be brought and he did not think the two could ever like together again.

The divorce was granted on the ground that Mrs. Kirkpatrick had signed a deed to the Kirkpatrick farm with the understanding that she was to have a life interest in the city property of Mr. Kirkpatrick. Mrs. Kirkpatrick's former name, Mrs. Anna Ochiltree was restored. Attorneys for Mr. Kirkpatrick took exceptions to the ruling of the court and will file a motion for a new trial.

After obtaining a jury and making the opening arguments the damage case of Mrs. Dorothy D. Taylor against the Indianapolis Traction Terminal company was compromised late yesterday afternoon. Mrs. Taylor asked $25,000 damages and her husband Arthur Taylor had a case pending in the Marion county circuit court for $15,000 damages for doctor bills and loss of time from his work. Both of the cases were settled here yesterday for $6,500.

Judge Megee overruled a demurrer in the damage suit of Albert C. Kirkham against Samuel Young. The case has been on the docket for years and is now ready for trial. The hearing plant at the courthouse is "off" again and court is being held in the library. Judge Megee announced that he would take up a number of probate matters tomorrow.

HOT PIPE IGNITES FLOOR

Little Damage is Done by Fire at Bailey Home.

An overheated pipe to a soft coal stove in the west half of a double house at 227 East Second street, occupied by Mrs. Charles Bailey and her daughter, ignited the pine floor in the second story and caused a fire alarm to be turned in this morning about nine-thirty o'clock. The fire did not get much of a start and was extinguished before the fire company arrived. Very little damage was done.

J. E. WATSON WILL WELCOME KNIGHTS

Program For K. of P. District Convention Here Next Monday is Slightly Changed.

AFTERNOON SESSION NOT OPEN

Arrangements are complete for the Knights of Pythias district meeting which will be held here next Monday. A few changes have been made in the program. It has been determined that the afternoon and evening sessions shall be open to Knights of Pythias only. It was originally announced that the afternoon meeting would be open to the public. The tentative program announced two weeks ago had Will M. Sparks set down for the address of welcome and James E. Watson for the good night address at the close. This has been reversed and Mr. Watson will welcome the visitors and Mr. Sparks will bid them goodbye.

Besides the four candidates from Rushville, the Rank of Page will be conferred on a class of six from Hagerstown and one from Connersville. The district comprises Union, Wayne, Henry, Randolph, Fayette and Rush counties.

FIELD EXAMINERS MAKE FRIENDS HERE

Robert James and James Smith Finish Work of Examining Records of City Officials.

OVERCOME LOCAL SENTIMENT

Robert James of Huntington and James Smith of Indianapolis, two field examiners sent out by the state board of accounts who have just completed going over the city records for the last several years, made many friends during their stay here. They were fair in the examinations and never took unfair advantage of any present or past city official. They always gave the official an opportunity to make an explanation before reaching a final decision.

The two-examiners said that they had heard of the sentiment that had been aroused here against field examiners because of the actions of examiners in the past, and that they hesitated about coming here when they were given the assignment. They declared that they realized that the rather high-handed methods of the examiners that had gone before them made it harder now. It will be recalled that no collection has resulted as the result of the examinations by accountants here.

HE IS ASSURED OF NOMINATION

James E. Watson Confirms Indianapolis Dispatch, Which Says He Will Be Candidate

FOR THE PRESIDENCY IN 1916

Refuses Fat Lobby Job, Paying $50,000 a Year, Offered to Him by Brewery Interests.

The prospects of James E. Watson being the next Republican candidate for president are growing brighter daily, and that Mr. Watson has told friends confidentially that he has been assured of the support of leading Republicans for the nomination, which practically means his candidacy will be successful, is contained in a special dispatch from Indianapolis to the Newcastle Courier.

The dispatch conveys the intelligence that Mr. Watson told some friends in the Denison hotel Tuesday that they were then looking on the next president of the United States. He confided in them that he had been told that he could get the nomination.

Before leaving for Indianapolis this morning, Mr. Watson admitted the truth of the dispatch and said that he had made such an assertion. He had little time except to confirm the veracity of the article. It follows:

James E. Watson, former congressman from the Sixth district and "whip of the house" and Republican candidate for governor in 1908 against Thomas Marshall, made an announcement in the Denison hotel Tuesday that he would be a candidate for president on the Republican ticket in 1916.

The announcement was not made to the public, but was overheard by a newspaper man while Watson was having lunch with H. H. Evans, prosecuting attorney of Henry county and a prospective candidate for the Republican nomination for circuit judge in that county, and James H. Jones, a prominent attorney of Newcastle.

The three men were talking politics when the question arose about paid lobbyists.

"Well," Watson said, "I was offered a position by the brewery interests as a paid lobbyist and I refused. They wanted to pay me $50,000 a year to represent their interests in the American congress, but my ambitions run higher than that. I wouldn't have the job at a million dollars a year."

"What you got up your sleeve, Jim—what do you mean by your ambitions running higher?" he was asked.

"Well, boys, you are now looking at the next president of the United States. I have consented to run for the nomination for president and have been assured that I can get the nomination. I don't know whether I will be elected, but I'll be the candidate all right."

This announcement coming from Watson can readily be believed, as he bears the reputation of never telling anything to newspaper men at all, and as it was overheard when he was telling a couple of close friends the announcement was not meant for the public.

WAR VETERAN DEAD.

Martin B. Harris, age seventy-four, is dead of paralysis, at his home in Knightstown. He was a member of Company A, One-hundred and thirty-ninth Indiana volunteer infantry. His widow and three daughters, Mrs. Arthur L. Stage and Miss Florence Harris of Knightstown, and Mrs. John Schwartz of Fort Wayne, survive.

'WETS' TO FORCE MORE ELECTIONS

Application For Licenses in Township Outside of City May be Made Soon.

LOOK TOWARD JERSEY CITY

Also Some Talk of Contesting Election Under Corrupt Practice Act—"Drys" Satisfied.

"It's a long road that has no road-house" and according to the latest after-election "dope" the "wets" may try and place a saloon in the township outside of the city limits—Jersey City being a favored location. Under the Proctor law the township outside of the city is "wet" and will remain so until voted "dry" or made "dry" by remonstrance.

The "wet" it is understood look with favor on the plan to place one or more saloons just outside the corporation line. In south Main street there is a building just across the line which would serve the purpose of the "wets" and the location is said to be sought by several of the men now in the business here. Since this place is about half way between Jersey City and this city it is figured by the "wets" that no kick will be made by the residents of Jersey City.

There are 1357 people in Rushville township outside of the city of Rushville. This means that the commissioners would have to determine the number of saloons the township could have and in any case it could not be more than two or less than one. In case an election was called just the people outside of the city could vote. A petition for an election would have to be signed by voters of the township. It is said that an application for a license may be filed in a few days or as soon as definite arrangements as to a place are determined.

Not satisfied with opening a sale in this township the "wets" are also looking forward to placing a saloon in Milroy and perhaps several other of the smaller towns in the county. It may so happen that every township in the county will have to vote or remonstrate to keep from having saloons. The "wets" believe that they will be able to find one "wet" township in the county and will make an effort at all of them.

Another story going the rounds today was the "wets" were going to contest the election under the corrupt practice act. This talk was heard every place and is believed to be more than idle talk. The grounds for a contest under this law as the "wets" see it was caused by the women giving coffee and lunch away at the polls. At the court house the "wets" say, was a large sign with the inscription "Free lunch For Voters—Vote Yes For Me." The "wets" claim this was the same as offering a man a cigar which under this law is unlawful. Workers on the "wets" side are urging that the election be contested.

In the meantime the "drys" are satisfied with their victory. They declare that the talk of contesting the election amounts to nothing because the corrupt practices act does not apply to a local option election. There is no basis for a contest, they assert. The law makes no provision for any special election.

The funeral services of V. K. Brown, who died yesterday in an Indianapolis sanatorium were conducted this afternoon at four o'clock at the Windsor Hotel by the Rev. W. H. Wylie. The remains will be taken to Morency, Mich., tonight for burial.

AMOS STEVENS SUCCEUMBS

Passes Away Following Long Illness From Cancer.

Amos J. Stevens, 87 years old, died this morning at his home near Orange after a long illness from cancer. Mr. Stevens was well known and was commonly called "Uncle Jack." He was taken seriously ill over a month ago and because of his advanced age death was expected. Mr. Stevens had been a resident of this county many years. He is survived by his widow. The funeral services will be held tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock at the late residence. Burial will take place in the family cemetery.

NEW 5-CENT PIECES HAVE ARRIVED HERE

Latest Coin Issued by U. S. Mint is Crude and Peculiar Looking as Compared to Old One.

FIRST CHANGE IN MANY YEARS

A batch of the new five-cent pieces which have just been issued by the government was received at the Peoples' National bank this morning. The new coin is peculiar looking and is far from being as uniform as its predecessor.

The new five-cent piece shows the head of an Indian chief on one side, with the word, "Liberty," at the top, and the date, 1913, at the bottom. The Indian head is the same design used on the present five dollar gold piece. The reverse side of the nickel shows a buffalo. Over the animal are the words, "United States of America, E. Pluribus Unum," and at the bottom the words, "Five cents."

Most people here who have seen the new coins do not think they are as good looking from an artistic standpoint as the old nickels.

The law provides that the design of a coin may only be changed once in twenty-five years by the Secretary of the Treasury unless Congress sanctions such change. This is the first change in the design of the five cent piece in a great many years.

QUESTIONED UNSETTLED.

Charles Bales, deputy auditor, and John H. Kiplinger, county attorney, have not yet figured the present bonded indebtedness of Rushville township to determine whether the building of the Bruce Graham road would not put the township over the limit. The deputy auditor says it would be $8,000 above and the county attorney does not agree.

LABOR TO BE IN GREAT DEMAND

Many Improvements That Are to be Made This Summer Will Take Local Supply.

HIGH WAGE WILL BE RESULT

Paving, Extension of Interurban and New Factory Some of Things Promised.

From present indications the demand for labor this summer will be greater than the supply. With the prospects of so much work that is planned for the next few months, it is not at all improbable that labor will be at a premium.

If the Indianapolis & Cincinnati traction line is extended from this city by way of New Salem, Andersonville, Brookville and Harrison, O., the work will probably be started the middle of the summer.

This work will doubtless create a big demand for laboring men. It will be recalled that there was more work than there were men to fill the places here when the interurban line was first put through Rushville.

Another improvement which will be made this summer, and which will require a large number of workmen, will be the paving contract which was just let this week by the county commissioners. Rushville laborers can well remember the opportunity afforded when Main and Second streets were paved with brick. There was a constant demand for laborers and it was far from possible to supply the demand here. The street contractors pay exceptionally good wages.

Another industry that is almost assured and that will further serve to increase the demand for labor is the Ideal Husker Company. Salesmen are now at work to sell a hundred thousand dollars worth of stock in the local concern in Rush county. If the citizens of the city and county show enough interest in the company that is to manufacture the invention of Rushville men, the factory will be built here.

Of course, the erection of the factory alone would furnish work for many men, but it is estimated that the new industry will give employment to at least fifty men all the time.

It will readily be seen that laborers will have no trouble finding work this summer. The greater demand there is for labor and the smaller the supply is, just that much more can the laborer demand for his services. Indications are that laboring men will find a rich harvest here this summer if present plans do not go awry.

MAY CAUSE AN EXTRA SESSION

Deadlock Over the Appropriations Bill.

BOTH HOUSES STAND FAST

The Lower House Shows That it is Against Any Agreement Looking to the Retention of Salary Grabs in the Original Bill, While the Senate Declined to Consider Substituted Bill Cutting Out These Grabs.

Indianapolis, March 7.—Last night the house conferees—Cravens and Bedwell—reported to the house that it had been unable to reach an agreement with the senate conferees on the regular appropriations bill, which provides increased salaries for statehouse officers and employes.

Representative Tingle at once made a motion calling for the appointment of a new committee, but it was voted down by an overwhelming vote.

The house, in voting against the naming of a new committee, plainly showed that it is against an agreement of any kind on the first appropriations bill and that it will insist on the senate accepting the second appropriations bill, eliminating all salary grabs.

After the house voted against new conferees, Representative Coons made a motion to continue the members of the committee, believing that these men will never agree to salary increases contained in the bill. Speaker Cook suggested that Mr. Coons withhold his motion, and no further action on the bill was taken. Senator Fleming was at the speaker's side at the time this suggestion was offered. Mr. Fleming is one of the senate members of the conference committee, and it is said that he has been insisting that the salary increases remain in the bill.

The refusing of the house to accept the first bill and the failure of the senate to pass the second appropriation bill, from which salary increases have been stricken, may result in a deadlock that would make it necessary to call a special session of the legislature. The present session closes next Monday midnight.

Legislative Doings.

Floor Leader Spencer introduced a bill in the house providing for an appropriation of $85,000 to "acquire and furnish" a mansion for the governor of Indiana, after the house had approved and adopted a report of the joint committee recommending the purchase of a residence at Twenty-first and Meridian streets for $75,000.

The house passed twenty-five bills and killed five, among the measures passed being Senator Traylor's bill permitting saloons to remain open on all legal holidays but Christmas, Memorial day, Fourth of July, Thanksgiving day, election day and Sundays; Senator Stotsenburg's constitutional convention bill; Senator Hauck's anti-cigarette bill; Senator Harlan's "bad check" bill, and Representative Cravens's bill, establishing a legislative reference department. Senator Harlan's bill to increase the Indianapolis city council to nineteen members was indefinitely postponed. Representative Sands's fire marshal bill was defeated.

The Gardner-Fleming bill, the latest measure concerning working hours for women, was passed on second reading, and in an effort to obtain its passage before the legislative session is brought to a close next Monday night, it probably will be handed down on third reading today. It is considered doubtful, however, whether there is time left for the bill to be passed in both houses and sent to the governor. The Ratts rat bill, providing for the extermination of rats, was passed, 49 to 19. The measure already has passed the senate, and it now goes to the governor for his signature.

The senate passed a bill to permit the re-election of every mayor and every other municipal officer in Indiana. Under the present law such officers cannot succeed themselves.

SENATE RULED BY THE PROGRESSIVES

This Element Dominates Steering Committee.

Washington, March 7.—When Senator Kern of Indiana, the new caucus chairman, named a steering committee which will act also as a committee on committees, it was made manifest that the progressive faction of the Democratic party will control the organization. This committee consists of nine senators, of which Mr. Kern is the ex-officio chairman. Seven of the nine are progressives and the majority of the entire committee has served for a comparatively short time only in the senate.

The old guard is represented on the committee by only two senators, Martin of Virginia and Clarke of Arkansas. The seven progressives are Kern of Indiana, Chamberlain of Oregon, Owen of Oklahoma, O'Gorman of New York, Smith of Georgia, Lea of Tennessee and Thomas of Colorado. Most of these men have heretofore been classed as Bryan Democrats and all are in sympathy with the policies of President Wilson.

The appointment of the patronage committee of five members was ratified by the caucus. It was stated that the patronage would be equally distributed among the Democrats and that each senator would have to his credit patronage amounting to about $4,000 annually.

When the steering committee met it was confronted with the problem of getting around the seniority rule without offending the older senators. It is believed that the rule of seniority will be respected in most instances in the committee reorganization insofar as chairmanships are concerned, but in every case the steering committee, it is said, will take pains to see that the progressive element is in control of the committee.

This Was Mr. Wilson's First Message to a Fellow Ruler.

Washington, March 7.—His first message of felicitation to a fellow ruler was sent by President Wilson congratulating the czar of Russia on the 300th anniversary of the accession of the Romanoffs to the throne in Russia. President Wilson's message was as follows:

"On this 300th anniversary of the accession of Michael Feodorovitch Romanoff to the imperial throne of Russia, I extend to your majesty cordial felicitations and the earnest hope of the government of the United States that the bond of friendship which now unites the two nations may ever strengthen and continue."

Russia is celebrating the tercentenary of the Romanoffs as emperors of Russia, which dynasty began in 1613 with the election of Michael Feodorovitch.

DON'T STAY GRAY! SAGE TEA WILL DARKEN YOUR HAIR BEAUTIFULLY.

A Mixture of Sage and Sulphur Prevents Dandruff and Falling Hair.

When you darken your hair with Sage Tea and Sulphur no one can tell, because it's done so naturally; so evenly. It is also splendid to remove dandruff, cure itching scalp and stop falling hair.

Preparing this mixture, though, at home is a messy and troublesome task. For about 50 cents a bottle you can buy at any drug store the ready-to-use tonic called, "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy." Some druggists put this mixture up themselves but make it too sticky, so insist you want

"Wyeth's" then there will be no disappointment.

You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur" and draw it through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. Do this at night and by morning all gray hair disappears and after another application or two becomes beautifully darkened and more glossy and luxuriant than ever. You will also discover dandruff is gone and hair has stopped falling.

Gray, faded hair, though no disgrace, is a sign of old age and as we all desire a youthful and attractive appearance, get busy at once with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur and you'll look years younger. Inquiry shows all pharmacists in town here sell lots of it.

TO HELP FARMER TO OBTAIN LOANS

Bill in State Senate Seeks to Make More Reasonable Terms Possible.

FOLLOWS PRES. TAFT'S PLANS

Ten Citizens May Organize Rural Loan and Savings Association According to Provisions.

A bill for rural loan and savings associations, which Senator Neal, of Lebanon, the author of the measure, says is designed to enable farmers to obtain loans with more ease and on more reasonable terms, has been introduced in the State senate.

The measure is aimed to establish financial aid to the farming population along lines recently advocated by President Taft, and contains the best features of laws already proposed or enacted in other States. Senator Neal says:

"It provides that not fewer than ten citizens of the State may organize a rural loan and savings association, which shall have the powers of the domestic building and loan associations, and shall be subject to the duties, examinations and regulations provided for in the latter. But the bonds, notes and mortgages given by its members and the transactions involving them shall be subject only to the provisions of the measure."

The amount of guaranty stock of such an association, as the bill provides for, where its office is in a city of over fifty thousand, shall not be less than $100,000; in cities of from twenty-five to fifty thousand, not less than $50,000, and in cities and towns of less than twenty-five thousand, which are county seats, not less than $30,000.

The shares of common stock are to be the same as shares of stock in domestic building and loan associations, except that the shares are non-voting and the holder has no liability on them after the par value is paid into the association. The guaranty stock holders in the association are to be jointly and severally liable in addition to the par value of their guaranty stock in a sum equal to the amount of their several holdings of that stock to pay any unsatisfied debt or liability of the association after all the assets and every other resource of the association shall be exhausted.

The guaranty stock holders are to elect the five directors. Before beginning general operations at least 20 per centum of the par value of the guaranty stock must be paid into the treasury. The bill provides that after the expenses of operation are deducted there shall be set aside from the gross profits 3 per cent. for a sinking fund for provision against contingent losses, and also 2 per cent. for the surplus fund of the guaranty stock.

The Auditor of State is to have supervision over the associations and empowered to act as trustee in trust. The auditor is to appoint a rural inspector who has had large experience in the examination of real estate and of farms as security for farm loans. A rural loan and savings association may deposit in trust with the Auditor of State bonds or notes secured by first mortgages on real estate. Whenever the approved trust deposits shall amount to $15,000 or more, the auditor may indorse on the obligations of the association that he holds as trustee in trust the required securities, and when thus certified, the obligations may be negotiated and sold by the association for the purpose of raising funds to loan on farm lands. It shall be the duty of the auditor to require the associations to keep on deposit with him as trustee by continuous exchange and deposit such an amount of securities as are 50 per cent. in excess of the certified obligations that are not redeemed. The auditor may allow the association to take up bonds, or notes and mortgages, held on deposit in trust in exchange for an equal or larger amount of like paper deposited in trust, and to collect the interest and installments of principal on the deposits, provided there is the required deposit.

"Pittsburgh Perfect" Fence

Why the Electric Weld is the Most Effective Fence-Joint made

Electrically welding joints eliminates innumerable exposed wire ends, and does away with sharply and tightly bending one wire against another, which cracks the galvanizing. The Electric Weld makes every ounce of wire count for strength and durability—no wasted wire, no useless weight dragging down the fence. Electricity is the only medium which truly amalgamates metals—makes two wires one. As we use it, the galvanizing is piled around the joints, producing a one-piece fabric with absolutely dependable joints. Electrically Welded fence-joints (patented) are used only in "Pittsburgh Perfect."

PORTER CHARLTON.

Center of Interest in American-Italian Extradition Case.

TREATY INVOLVED IN THE CHARLTON CASE

Supreme Court to Determine Disputed Point.

New York, March 7.—In the United States supreme court at Washington, the latter part of the week beginning March 17, argument in the case of Porter Charlton, whom the Italian government wants to extradite that he may be placed on trial for the murder of his wife, Mary Scott Castle Charlton, at Lake Como, Italy, on June 9, 1910, will take place.

The outcome in the supreme court will hang on two important points. It will be contended by Charlton's counsel that the treaty between the United States and Italy made in 1868 has been nullified by the refusal of Italy to permit the extradition to this country of Italians accused of crime, and consequently the United States is not obligated to deliver Charlton over to Italy in accordance with its formal request. The second crucial question to be threshed out will be whether an error was committed by the committing magistrate in refusing to allow Charlton's counsel to prove that the prisoner was of unsound mind at the time of the commission of his self-confessed crime.

NOT THE TIME FOR TRIAL

This Is What Thaw's Lawyers Decide in Habeas Corpus Action.

New York, March 7.—Counsel retained by Harry K. Thaw in his latest attempt to have himself released from Matteawan on the ground that he is sane, decided suddenly that the public feeling against Thaw at present, because of the recent bribery charges, does not make a trial as to his sanity advisable just now, and when the habeas corpus proceedings were continued before Supreme Court Justice Geiger the writ was withdrawn.

"Take him back," ordered Acting Superintendent Leake of Matteawan, as soon as the court had disposed of the case.

The letters caused many heartaches. That they were written by someone intimately acquainted with so-called higher social circles there was no doubt. A young woman has been under suspicion.

Is It Regret?

The New York World, the leading Democratic newspaper, remarks editorially:

"The new attorney-general must be a man who can command public confidence and who can also command the expert confidence of the bench and bar as well. He must be a man whose legal attainments are such that Wall street will take him seriously from the start. At the same time he must be free from any disposition to crusade against business in general for the mere love of notoriety.

"Mr. Wickersham has earned the hatred of Big Business and the undying enmity of every trust promoter in the country. He has likewise earned the fear of all these eminent malefactors. When he starts a suit they know they are confronting one of the ablest lawyers in the country, who can be swerved neither by influence nor intimidation. The abuse that has been heaped upon him is the highest tribute to his ability and his public service.

"The World sincerely hopes that there is a George W. Wickersham in the Democratic party and that Mr. Wilson will be able to find him. A great attorney-general is essential to the work of a great progressive administration."

The World speaks feelingly of the abuse that has been heaped upon Mr. Wickersham and it probably refers to the abuse that has come from the trust magnates. But how about the abuse that came from the World itself when during the campaign last year the Taft administration was attacked as "putty in the hands of the great interests"? The World knew as much as it knows now, but at that time it was concerned in forwarding the interests of a certain political party, so Mr. Wickersham was pointed out as a man who had been a great corporation lawyer before his elevation to the cabinet and who by vicious implication was held up as one who served the interests while assuming to serve the people.

But now, when its own party is about to assume the reins of government, the World, anxious that no mistake may be made, points to the splendidly efficient record of Mr. Wickersham and insists that a lawyer as loyal to the people and of as great capacity as he be selected to fill the highly important post of attorney-general.

And what a commentary on American politics this appeal constitutes!

The Recall of Heywood

People who believe it is a good thing to have laws and have them enforced will read with satisfaction of the recall of William D. Heywood from the directorate of the Socialist party by a more than two to one vote. The cult of the red flag is growing at a rate that disturbs many Americans. But at least this incident shows that a majority even of these radicals believe in the ballot rather than the gun.

The "direct action" of Heywood and his followers meant simply that courts and legislatures were considered antiquated, and that the strongest were to rule. This philosophy is really the greatest possible threat to the hopes of the workingman.

As long as might made right, there was government by kings, despotism, and feudalism. It was when the suffrage began to be substituted for the divine right of kings that the common man began to climb upward.

It looks like the beginning of the end for the Indianapolis Sun which announces in bold type on the front page that both the daily and Sunday Sun will be delivered in Indianapolis by carrier for five cents a week, and outside of Indianapolis for seven cents a week. On its face, the announcement makes it appear that the Sun is making a death struggle, when other Indianapolis newspapers are selling for ten cents a week for the daily or fifteen cents, including Sunday. Such "bargains" are apt to disorganize the circulation business, but no evil will likely result from the Sun's reduction because there seems to be no wild clamoring to take advantage of it.

There are sharp differences of opinion in the new cabinet, but the police should not interfere with the debates until the furniture begins to circulate through the atmosphere.

Secretary Nagel complains that the coal combine made $13,500,000 out of the recent strike, but he must remember that the miners cannot be relied on to strike every year.

Mr. Wilson proposes to occupy the President's room at the Capitol, but plans are under way in Congress to put him in the coal hole.

WHAT MEASURE PROVIDES FOR

Garnishee Bill Allows Execution or Not More Than 10 Per Cent of Man's Wages.

OTHER NINETY IS EXEMPT

No More Than Three Dollars Can be Paid in Costs by Person Sued.

The Weidler garnishee bill, which has passed the state house of representatives, and thus became a measure with which the senate will wrestle, provides for execution on not more than 10 per cent. of the wages, debts, earnings, salary, income from trust funds, or profits due to a debtor against whom there has been obtained a judgment on a contract for necessities of life furnished a family or members thereof. Ninety per cent. of the wages, salary or such other payments due the debtor would be exempt from execution.

The execution would be a continuing lien until the amount of the judgment and such costs as the bill permits are satisfied. While there was one unsatisfied execution running against the debtor no other execution issued under the proposed garnishee law could be effective.

The bill also contains a provision that not more than $3 in costs shall be paid by the person against whom the execution is issued. Additional costs are to be borne by the judgment creditor.

In order to use the garnishee, the person holding a judgment would have to file before a justice of the peace, or in the circuit or superior court, an affidavit that he had recovered the judgment on a contract for necessities, and that the execution had been returned as unsatisfied in whole or in part for want of property subject to execution, and that wages, profits, earnings or the like are due to the person against whom judgment was rendered. Upon satisfactory proof of the facts set out in the affidavit the execution provided in the bill would issue. The judgment debtor, however, and the person, firm or corporation having the money that would become due the judgment debtor, would have to have ten days' notice after the filing of the affidavit and before the order for the issuance of the execution. Either party to the action would have the right to apply at any time to the justice of the peace, or the circuit or superior court issuing the execution, for a modification of the order, and it is provided that upon hearing the application the justice of the peace or the judge may make such modification as shall be deemed just.

Under the bill no execution in garnishment could issue on judgments made prior to sixty days after the act takes effect. The bill has no emergency clause, and if passed by the senate and signed by the Governor would not take effect until the proclamation of the Governor putting all the acts of the general assembly in effect.

ONE OF AFFLICTED COUPLE IS DEAD

HUSBAND IS PARTIALLY BLIND

Demise Marks Close of Long Struggle to Stop Inroads of Terrible Disease.

Mrs. James S. E. Hilligoss, age 66 years, died at her home in Walker township of cancer this morning at four o'clock. She has been afflicted with the disease for several years and for the last few weeks her condition has been critical.

Two years ago Mrs. Hilligoss began to take treatment for cancer of an Indianapolis physician. The treatment served the purpose at first, and apparently the affliction was bettered to some extent for the time being. Her relatives believe, however, that the disease was only spread over her body.

Mrs. Hilligoss went to Anderson to visit relatives a few months ago and there she met a physician who said he could help her disease. She was given the electric treatment. At first it seemed that the terrible disease was being driven from her body, but suddenly she changed for the worse and her relatives were advised to remove her to her home.

The trip from Anderson here was so injurious to Mrs. Hilligoss that it was necessary to remove her to the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Arbuckle, in West Second street, before proceeding to the Walker township home. She remained at the Arbuckle home several days to recuperate and finally gained enough strength so that it was felt safe to take her home.

It was just a week ago that Mrs. Hilligoss was taken from here to her home. Her decline was rapid, and it was soon apparent to the anxious relatives about the bedside that she could not survive long.

The Hilligoss household has been in a distressed condition for some time. Several years ago Mr. Hilligoss' eyesight became defective and he has been partially blind since that time. The aged couple bore their afflictions bravely, although all of the good things in life seemed to them to have departed.

Mrs. Hilligoss was an ardent member of the Christian Union church at Homer. She is survived by her husband and three daughters—Mrs. Myrtle Brown, Mrs. Florence Johnson and Mrs. Dot Miller, all of whom live in Walker township. A fourth daughter born to them is dead.

TREASON IN THE CAMP.

(Fort Wayne News.)

There's treason in camp! The Indianapolis Sun, radical organ of the progressive party lifts up its rebellious voice and thus trumpets defiance at the ones:

"It may serve an excellent purpose if the following hint, or tip, or suggestion can be conveyed, in a delicate entirely friendly manner, to the Hon. Theodore Roosevelt and the Hon. Albert J. Beveridge: 'There is much more to the organization and promotion of a great political party than a semi-occasional gab-fest.' 'By their works shall ye know them,' not by their words—words—words."

For a moose editor who indulges in reprehensible cracks of that character there is only one fitting portion—his back to an abode wall and facing a firing squad.

Makes Plea For Lives of Birds

Dr. W. W. Arnold, of Colorado Springs, Colorado, formerly of this county, who has made a close study of bird life and who has as much love in his heart for them as is possible for a human to pour out to creatures, makes the following plea for birds in a letter to the Daily Republican:

I notice in the Republican that the farmers are opening their sugar camps, and that pulls at my heart strings, for I always enjoyed work in the sugar camp. It is an interesting time of the year, for old dame nature begins to feel the irksomeness of the inertia of the frost king's deathlike reign, and in many ways manifests a disposition to throw off the impedimenta and throw out the banners of spring.

The chickadees and nuthatches render the camps vocal music with their love chatter, and the sociable robin, impatient to declare the Northland his home, and not merely a summer trysting place, proclaims his blessed presence in song, and oftentimes in sorrow, for frequently a snow or sleet storm imperils his life. The jays and sapsuckers tell interesting stories of the battles they waged for life during the arctic days of the winter, and the big horned owl shows his sweetheart what a cozy home he has discovered in the hollow top of some ancient sycamore, where they at once set up housekeeping.

The farmers are greatly in error when they promiscuously destroy every owl and hawk that takes up residence in the woodlands, for nearly all of the predatory birds earn their livelihood in destroying animals hurtful to the interest of the farmer.

I should like to be out on the old farm right now and tell you all these things and much more, but must ring off.

INDIANA'S CASH DRAWER EMPTY

State Treasurer Calls on County Treasurers to Advance 25 Per Cent. by March 10.

BILL ON GOVERNOR'S DESK

Provides Counties Shall Make Monthly Settlements—Loss of Interest to the Counties.

A bill is pending at Indianapolis awaiting the governor's signature compelling county treasurers to make monthly settlement with the state. This would mean the anticipation of tax revenue in part, six months in advance. The bill shows how great is the demand of the Democratic state administration for money to pay current expenses. Never was anything like it before. If by this plan the money is gathered in by the state as paid in it will mean a loss approximating one million dollars to the various counties for interest on public funds. Yet conditions will not be much worse than they are already. Treasurer W. M. McBride has received a demand from the state auditor for twenty-five per cent of the total amount that will be due the state at the close of the collection period in May, on State Revenue and School fund interest. Just what this amount would be Mr. McBride nor anyone else can tell in advance but the demand is pressing.

Mr. McBride will have to guess, as best he can and will be guided by an amount sent last March, in response to a similar demand. Of course the heavier part of taxpaying will be between now and the first Monday in May. Yet the order is to send 25 per cent. of the whole by the 10th of March whether that portion of the fund is then on hand or not.

Taxes are to be increased—that much has been agreed upon but the House and Senate have been loath to fix the amount of increase and have shouldered that duty upon Governor Ralston who is hesitating lest he put the figure so high the party will be criticised and perhaps injured.

The Modern Woodmen had two applications for membership last night; also a request from Milroy Camp for the privilege of bringing two candidates up and having them adopted at the next regular meeting. Thursday night March 13th.

Clerk Stech was instructed to notify the Milroy Neighbors to bring on their candidates, and an effort will be made to have several candidates of their own to adopt at the same time.

The local camp also decided to have another class adoption April 3d, and have set their marks at one hundred candidates. The members are enthusiastic over the prospect and say they intend to make this the greatest event in local Woodcraft history.

Neighbors C. C. Maple and J. W. Deerin of Andersonville, were present last night and transferred their membership to the local camp and pledged themselves to secure a number of candidates for the coming class.

The first annual thank offering was taken and amounted to $32. The members were highly gratified with it. The society had its birthday cake and birthday candle, and the whole affair was carried out as a child's first birthday anniversary would be.

Mrs. Pusey is a special friend of Mrs. Brooks, and remained after the funeral to console her in her sad bereavement. The deaths came in quick succession, and Mrs. Brooks is almost prostrate from the loss. Mr. Pusey and son returned earlier in the week after having attended the funeral.

Amusements

The Princess will show a Kalem drama "A Business Buccaneer" for the first picture tonight. It is an exciting picture and features Alice Joyce. The other is a Selig comedy "How the Duke of Leisure Reached His Winter Home."

The Palace offers a two-reel Imp feature tonight "John Sterling, Alderman." It is a dramatic production and is said to be a thrilling picture telling a political story. King Baggot is featured. Next week Clarence Edward of Greensburg will sing.

Returning to the Shubert-Murat Theatre next Monday night for an engagement of three nights and Wednesday matinee, comes Lew Fields' All Star Company, presenting that most nonsensical of all nonsensities "Hanky Panky," direct from 150 nights of sensational business at the Broadway Theatre, New York, where it played to capacity business and enjoyed an exceptional vogue.

The same stars as last seen here are still to be seen with the organization; Max Rogers, the surviving member of the Rogers Brothers; "Bobby" North, Harry Cooper, Hugh Cameron, Clay Smith, Christine Nielson, Myrtle Gilbert, Virginia Evans, Flo May, and not overlooking William Montgomery and Florence Moore.

A sequelized "Get-rich-quick-Wallingford" is the background for the travesty, and the escapades of the celebrated con man are humorously depicted, as he is now added to the British peerage with the title of Sir J. Rufus, while Blackie Daw, instead of being his accomplice, as formerly, is now his foe. Cleopatra, a resurrected Egyptian mummy appears concurrently with these present day characters, and during the evening the gamut of hilarity is run.

The second act shows the campus of John D. Rockefeller's University of Chicago, with the famous "Yale Fence" interposed for comedy purposes, and finally, Mrs. Wallingford's Lodge at Chicago, showing a gorgeous Lawn Fete, with myriads of lights and colors in bewildering beauty. The chorus consists of fifty typical Broadway charmers, proclaimed by the New York critics "the most siren aggregation of young women" who ever leveled their smiles across one row of footlights.

The books, lyrics and music are by Edgar Smith, E. Ray Goetz and A. Baldwin Sloane, respectively.

The literary program which was to have been given Wednesday by the Gowdy Epworth league was postponed until next Wednesday night.

Ben Havens, a former Rushville man has been appointed a city mail carrier at Greensburg. A new city carrier and a new clerk was added to the office there so as to comply with the new eight-hour law.

insist upon CLEAN FLOUR for the CHILDREN'S BREAD. In the crease of every wheat kernel lodges dirt. Unless all the dirt is washed out of the wheat and the wheat hair and waste fibre separated from the flour, it goes into the bread and the children have only partly clean, partly wholesome food. You can always tell clean flour by the length of time the bread keeps fresh. No other bread keeps fresh and sweet as long as bread made from

TURKS GIVE UP TO THE GREEKS

Janina Finally Forced to Surrender.

BOMBARDED FOR MONTHS

This Culminated in a Fierce Onslaught of the Greek Army's Best Forces. Before Which the Turkish Batteries Were Silenced and a Heretofore Impregnable Fortress Compelled to Surrender With More Than 30,000 Men.

Athens, March 7.—There is much rejoicing over the capture of the Turkish fortress of Janina, in Epirus, and the surrender of 32,000 men. The fortress, which has been bombarded by the Greeks for months, was entered by squadrons of Greek cavalry under the command of General Fouzo, after a defense which forms one of the most brilliant episodes of the Balkan war.

The surrender was preceded by a fierce bombardment, lasting without cessation for two days and two nights. Every available gun, including a number of heavy howitzers, lent by the Serbian artillery, was brought to bear on the forts defending the beleaguered city.

No fewer than 30,000 shells were fired by the Greek guns during the first day's cannonade. Gradually the Turkish batteries were silenced. The Greeks pushed their forward movement and occupied the Turkish batteries on the Sakni and Plas hills. Then the Greek battalions gradually deployed on to the plain in front of the city itself.

The Turkish flight immediately became general, despite all the efforts of the Ottoman officers to rally their men. Whole detachments succumbed to panic and joined in the mad race into the city. The Greek troops followed in hot pursuit almost to the walls.

With all the defending batteries in the hands of the Greeks and the Hellenic soldiers at the gates of Janina, Esseed Pasha, the Turkish commander, sent messengers under a flag of truce to Crown Prince Constantine of Greece, announcing the surrender of the city and all the troops under his command.

THEY GOT COLD COMFORT

President Wilson Refers Congressmen to Department Heads.

Washington, March 7.—Developments indicate that President Wilson may attempt to relieve himself of many of the details of dispensing patronage, even when it involves interviews with members of congress. The formal statement which the new president issued Wednesday put up the bars only against office seekers themselves coming to the White House without an invitation.

Yesterday, however, President Wilson referred two Democratic senators who called upon him to confer in regard to certain appointments to his attorney general. The two senators were Bryan and Fletcher of Florida. They called at the White House to discuss with Mr. Wilson the appointment of a federal judge and district attorney for the southern district of Florida. The president informed them that they should make their recommendations to Attorney General McReynolds.

It was learned definitely, however, that Mr. Wilson does not intend to decline to discuss patronage questions with the statesmen from Capitol Hill. It happened that he was not ready at that hour to take up appointments. In the future, however, he will listen to the advice of members of congress on such questions, even though it be offered without solicitation from him, but he undoubtedly will try to have his cabinet officers relieve him of as many details as possible.

LIFTED FROM THE BOTTOM

Perry's Historic Vessel, the Niagara, Again is Afloat.

Erie, Pa., March 7.—A local contractor and his gang have raised the Niagara, the ship which turned defeat into victory for Oliver Hazard Perry in the battle of Lake Erie, Sept. 10, 1813.

Within five days it is expected that the battered craft will be propelled to the shore on pontoons. From there she will be overhauled preparatory to her last cruise, along the great lake ports from Erie to Duluth, during the Perry centennial celebration next summer.

The Roosevelt-Derby Wedding.

Oyster Bay, N. Y., March 7.—Plans are being arranged for the wedding of Miss Ethel Carow Roosevelt, daughter of Colonel and Mrs. Theodore Roosevelt, to Dr. Richard Derby of New York. The wedding will be in the Episcopal church here on April 4, and a reception will follow at Sagamore Hill. They are to sail for Europe on the following day.

Darrow Case Goes to Jury.

Los Angeles, Cal., March 7.—The twelve men who are to determine the guilt or innocence of Clarence S. Darrow, accused of bribery in connection with Robert F. Bain, a juror in the McNamara case, are now deliberating on their verdict.

TARIFF REVISION IS GOING TO CAUSE ROW

Divergent Interests Promise to Clash.

Washington, March 7.—The Democratic members of the ways and means committee today began their work in earnest on the tariff revision program. The forthcoming revision will be embodied in sixteen bills, fourteen dealing with schedules of the present law, one bill for a free list, and another carrying the administrative features of the proposed tariff. It is already apparent that in committee as well as in the house, every one of these bills will be fought with great bitterness.

The senate is Democratic and so is the president, and the Democratic house must proceed accordingly.

Eastern Democrats are opposed to cuts on manufactured products that are understood to be contemplated by the majority of the committee. Democrats from the west and north balk at proposals that have been made for substantial reductions in the rates on farm products. President Wilson will be strongly urged to ask congress to limit its work at the special session to the tariff revision bills.

MR. ADEE IS INDISPENSABLE

Washington Authority on Diplomacy Retained by Mr. Bryan.

Washington, March 7.—Mr. Bryan refuses absolutely to discuss in any way matters of policy or personnel of the state department. It was made known, however, that Alvey A. Adee, the diplomatic authority, who has held the post of second assistant secretary of state for twenty-six years and who has been connected with the state department service for more than forty years, will be asked to remain indefinitely.

Vetoed Public Health Bill.

Indianapolis, March 7.—Governor Ralston has vetoed Senator White's measure banishing the public drinking cup from the state. The governor explained that while he recognized that the bill was to prevent the spread of disease, he did not believe that the good effected along health lines would make up for the discomfort put upon the public.

TO INCREASE PAY OF BOARDS

Senate Easily Passes Bill to Make Salary of County Councilmen $3 a Day.

SAME FOR ADVISORY BOARDS

Concurs in Conference Report on Measure Permitting Shooting of Blackbirds in Cities.

An innocent looking bill with big possibilities for salary drains on townships and counties of the state was easily passed in the senate yesterday afternoon under suspension of rules.

It was the Yarding bill, which provides that members of county councils and members of township advisory boards shall each receive $3 a day for each day's attendance at any meeting and an allowance of 5 cents a mile necessarily traveled in attending and returning from such meeting.

The present salary of each of the four county councilmen in each county ranges from $10 to $20 a year, irrespective of the number of meetings, and the salary of each of the three members of each township advisory board is $5 a year, thus making both offices practically honorary offices.

The possibilities of increasing the salary drains under the bill can be seen when it is realized that with an understanding among the officials sessions of the councils may be indefinitely prolonged. Of course, it is not probable that council and board sessions would be extended so long, but supposing that the four county council members from each of the ninety-two counties should work for three hundred and twelve days, as they would have a right to do under certain circumstances, the total county council cost for the state in excess of the salaries now paid would $338,928. By the same process of speculative figuring, the total cost of advisory boards in a year for the 1,016 townships, in excess of present salaries, would amount to $2,837,688. It is not reasonable to suppose that anything approaching these amounts would be actually spent, but the possibility of prolonged sessions of the councils or boards for the sake of salaries is evident.

The senate concurred in the conference reports on the bill for permitting the shooting of blackbirds in cities, and in the sanitary schoolhouse bill.

The court reporters' bill, providing for the payment of a per diem of $5 to each court reporter for the days he works and guaranteeing an annual salary of at least $1200, against failed to pass the senate for want of a constitutional majority. Some time ago the measure was up for passage and failed for the same reason. The second time the bill got 21 votes for and 21 votes against it.

The Mauzy Company has filed suit on a note against J. Edward Laughlin, demanding $175.
